Houston IQA Show

Houston! I was lucky enough to go to the IQA Quilt Festival in Houston Texas this year. I took several classes: longarm fill in patterns and how to do videos. I am hoping to have some video instructions set up in the next year. I decided I don't mind showing how to do a sewing skill, but you don't necessarily need to see me. It was harder than I thought it would be but fun.

I was tickled that one of my group Dresden quilts was exhibited in the group category. It didn't win the "prize" but it was a winner just to be one of twelve quilts juried in. My favorite thing to do is stand and listen to the comments, anonymously. My favorite, "this makes me happy it's so bright and colorful".

Simple Holiday Gift - Mug Rugs

Mug Rugs make great holiday gifts when you need something small and quick. Save your scraps and sew them randomly/in an improv fashion to a 6 x 9" size. Using fusible batting scraps or spray baste do some simple quilting and bind by machine. You could even do a pillowcase turn. Voila. Add a mug or nice selection of coffee or tea to complete a very personal gift.
